Divorce and Family Law

The break-up of a family is an emotional situation, especially when issues of custody, child support, and possible abuse or neglect are involved. If you face a divorce, it is critical that the legal counsel with whom you invest your trust has the knowledge, experience, reputation and compassion to help you through this ordeal.

As no two people are alike, neither are any two families or legal matters involving family situations. Financial implications vary. The degree of physiological and emotional trauma may differ. There may be other legal issues and personal ramifications to be considered.

Since 1985, The Law Offices of Russell I. Marnell, P.C., has realized this. Concentrating on divorce and family law, our firm has litigated many cases to court decision, including those involving complex financial issues.

Having passed the CPA examination, and holding an MBA in accounting along with his law degree, Mr. Marnell understands and has lectured on procedures to value businesses, professional practices and licenses. His extensive experience with the mental health community has enhanced his working understanding of DSM-IVR, brain-washing and the Parental Alienation Syndrome. This knowledge is invaluable for interviewing, examining and cross-examining witnesses and obtaining favorable settlements.

With fully computerized operations, our own website, and a complete New York State law library, we can keep pace with the changes in legal statutes affecting Family Law.

Above all is our concern for the individual client, and our ability to handle every case on a personal basis, in an expeditious manner and at a reasonable cost. We are available around-the-clock for emergencies, and also are available for weekend or evening appointments.
