Excess Inventory Management

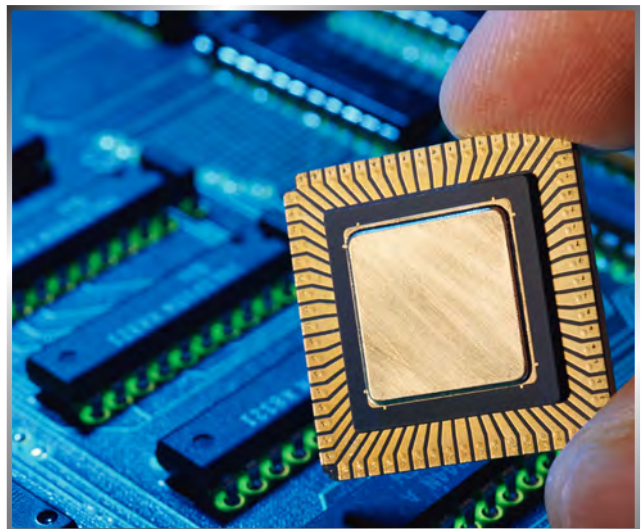

Electronic Components • Board Level Materials

Authentic Electronics partners with our customers to supply customized back-end supply chain management services.

We can create an ROI for your excess inventory by creating a customized program that will either supply cash to your business immediately through our purchase program, future cash flows through our consignment program, or a combination of both.

We handle all the required logistics, including physical inventory management, sales and marketing, insurance and cash flow management.

Please contact us if you have excess inventory that you would like to utilize to enhance your cash flow.
